Tasting Notes:

Now farmed biodynamically, Angludet is on top form with a superb wine produced this vintage. The berries were extremely small and dense which yielded only 26hl/ha. It is the first vintage that Merlot is the dominant varietal. Intense blackberry aromas dominate the bouquet with a beautiful fragrant freshness. The palate is seamless with rich, ripe plum fruits, succulent cassis and an inky intensity and creamy mouthfeel. The tannin structure is beautifully crafted and there is a touch of cedar on the finish which is long and lingering. An excellent wine that oozes style and finesse.
