One of Pauillac's most dependable and classically styled growths, renowned for wines of structure, finesse and longevity. Planted largely to Cabernet Sauvignon on deep gravel soils, the estate consistently delivers hallmark notes of cassis, cedar and graphite with impressive balance and ageing potential. Often regarded as one of the bestvalue classified growths in Bordeaux, Grand-Puy-Lacoste combines traditional Pauillac character with understated refinement.

Tasting Notes:

GPL 2025 is a classic, brooding expression of Pauillac power with great finesse. Layers of forest floor and dark, chewy black fruits unfold slowly in the glass, led by ripe, succulent cassis and underpinned by a distinctive streak of pencil lead and graphite. The tannic structure is firm, precise and beautifully controlled, giving the wine shape, whilst a subtle creamy texture adds depth to its intense core. Harmonious yet complex, this is a deeply composed Grand-Puy-Lacoste with impressive underlying power and a long future ahead. Notably, it is the first vintage produced in the château's new winery, marking the beginning of a new chapter for the estate.
