FAMILY WINE MERCHANTS SINCE 1906

Chianti Classico Gran Selezione DOCG, Chioccioli Altadonna

Price	£46.50
Code	CHIO015

The Altadonna range of wines is an expression of the terroir in which the grapes are grown. The result are wines which reflect purity and balance, whose character is both modern and yet traditional.

Tasting Notes:

A wine of extraordinary intensity with fruity, floral and spicy notes. Good firm tannins and balanced acidity.

HOUSE OF TOWNEND

Specification
Vinification	Hand harvesting. Destemming takes place using modern technology. Fermentation in conical vats, barrels and open barriques using the "vinificazione integrale" technique. After a long maceration on the skins, the wine is poured directly into the Fine grained French oak barrels where malolactic fermentation takes place. It is matured "on the lees" in the barrels for 18 months prior to bottling. After bottling, it is aged for a further 6 months at lease before being released for sale.

Producer Overview	The Chioccioli Estate has its own winery in Gaiole in Chianti and its vineyards are located in two areas with the most suitable terroir in the Chianti Classico area: Gaiole in Chianti and Quercegrossa. The two owners Niccolo and Enrico Chioccioli Altadonna, work directly in the vineyards where the whole operation is carried out by hand from pruning and harvest, through to the final wine making. Vineyard management is key and a great deal of effort is made to ensure that they achieve the best polyphenolic ripening possible of the grapes. Attention to detail is paramount for the winery beginning with the double sorting of grapes, the vinification technique, the use of the finest grained French oak barrels and the highest standard of vinification.
