Produced by the well known Domaine Chapoutier. An exceptional wine made from the Syrah grape in the Côte-Rôtie. The average age of the vines from which the grapes are selected is 60 years old which guarantee a wine of outstanding quality.

Tasting Notes:

92-94 points Robert Parker's Wine Advocate " The 1997 Cote Rotie La Mordoree is an extremely expressive, open-knit, aromatic, and seductive example. Chapoutier believes it is the finest he has ever made. It is soft, accessible, and easy to understand. The saturated ruby/purple color is accompanied by tell-tale aromas of black raspberries, roasted herbs, smoke, and meat. The wine is medium to full-bodied and moderately tannic, with low acidity, superb concentration, and an intense black cherry, camphor-like, olive component."
