Nestled 35 meters above the Orbieu River, this 4-hectare vineyard is situated on a terrace made up of pebbles deposited by the floods during the great glaciations. This is a vibrant red wine bursting with red berries and black cherry, subtle spice and lovely smooth texture.

Tasting Notes:

Bursting with juicy, vibrant red berries and black cherry, this wine is enhanced by delicate hints of black pepper and herbal nuances. Rich and smooth, it showcases ripe tannins, perfectly balanced with a touch of black olive on the palate. Well-structured, it delivers a long, satisfying finish.

Press Comments	Wine Merchant Magazine, Tried and Tested, August 2026: "Fifteen per cent alcohol reds? In this heat? Admittedly we didn't check the label before cracking this open on a sweaty evening in July. But no matter: there's no burn, just plush, spicy, leathery fruit that, even at room temperature, has a soothing, cooling affect. Presumably similar to a dive into the Orbieu River in Corbières, 35 metres below the pebbly vineyard." Jancisrobinson.com, 2025, 15 points: "Clearly a very hot lieu-dit, judging by the heat and ripeness of the wine! If you like your Grenache sweet and jammy, then this one is for you."
