From select plots in Saint-Hippolyte-le-Graveyron, on the slopes of the Dentelles de Montmirail, this wine was once part of the Pigoulet blend. However, the Brunier family felt that its unique and captivating qualities deserved to stand alone and so they vinified it separately, producing a wine that is both approachable yet has the depth and character of a more prestigious red

Tasting Notes:

The bouquet it pronounced with blackberry, cassis and subtle earthy notes. The palate shows impressive depth and structure with ripe dark berries layered with hints of spice. Rich and expressive, it finishes long with a firm, poised grip.
